We are excited to share that we've now have a partnership with LEITEK Innovative Solutions to bring expanded drone capabilities to Portugal!

This partnership marks Volatus' continued growth into Europe, Middle East, and Africa, which is led by our VP of EMEA, Steve Emerson.

"We are carefully seeking out partners who can benefit from Volatus' capabilities while providing on the ground training, services, consultancy and support in these regions," said Emerson. "We see LEITEK as an important ally in helping to grow drone capabilities in and around Portugal."

"We are excited to bring Volatus' portfolio into our list of solutions, their experience and knowledge in the UAS space will help us strengthen Portugal's drone capabilities," said Clélio Leite, CEO and Founder of LEITEK. "We look forward to the collaboration and what we can accomplish."
